July 10, 2025

It was our pleasure to contact at least two or three potential candidates for each vacant position. Respectfully submitted,

For over 20 years, I've served as a pastor in Maine—currently at Easton Wesleyan—and a hospital chaplain, blending my Nova Scotia roots of warmth and resilience with a passion for helping others embrace their God-given purpose. Married to Katie for 22 years, dad to 17-year-old Riley and our rescue pup Clara, I believe grace shines through imperfect people, quilts, restored furniture, and gardens. My deepest joy is walking with people as they discover their identity and authority in Christ, transforming faith from concept to daily action that shapes how they live and love. Grounded in family, community, and the conviction that the local church is God's catalyst for healing, I'm grateful to be part of a tribe where second chances and messy growth whisper hope from Maine to the Maritimes.
